foreign rights catalogue

spring 2019

The name HongFei means “big flying bird” in Chinese. This word comes from a poem by SU Dongpo (XI century) in which life is compared to a big bird flying over the snow and leaving traces without being attached to them. The logo of HongFei Cultures is inspired by a picture on which the Chinese character meaning “bird” is based. It represents a bird and its traces on the snow.

HongFei Cultures is specialised on books for children and develops a unique editorial line that highlights empathy notably through the link with China and cross-cultural aspect. This is why many of the titles by HongFei represent texts by classic or contemporary Chinese and Taiwanese authors illustrated by western artists. These texts - fables, wonderful stories, fairy tales, poetry - reveal ancient but timeless literary tradition, vibrant and rich in humanism.

In the catalogue of HongFei Cultures, readers will also find titles not linked to Chinese culture and exploring various subjects such as travelling, interest to the unknown and relations with the others.

VACANCES d'été

Summer vacation

by Mori

It's the end of the school year for the little girl and her black cat. Images capture the moment, like a photograph. Over this book's double page spreads, we follow our two small protagonists through a multitude of summer vacation scenes, various locations, activities and outfit changes. But it's the same thing every time: strike a pose, look straight ahead, stop moving, and then click... The moment is captured forever! Our young protagonists don't exactly seem thrilled – they would certainly rather be splashing around, running or playing – but the person striving to keep these beautiful souvenirs of life feels much tenderness.

210 x 210 mm - 36 pages - 13,90 € - hardback

Publication date - May 2019

AUTHOR / ILLUSTRATOR

After studying management and advertising in Taiwan, Mori spent six months in Europe. His stay, marked by many visits to museums and galleries, led him to attend art school. Ever since then, through the images he creates digitally, Mori attempts to represent life's fleeting moments, the many facets and fragments that constitute its uniqueness as much as they demonstrate its continual evolution. In 2017, his work received a Merit Award for the 3x3 Illustration Show.

Bubbles of summer

by Florian Pigé

By the pool, time stopped for a young boy who is finishing his breakfast with his feet in the water. Summer vacations are almost over. Left on his own, with his parents always busy, the child with a rich imagination fills his days with thousands of little activities. In the afternoon, he puts on his cape and hops on a bike, he feeds all the street cats and sometimes, when he's lucky, meets Lily... he just knows her name. She's is beautiful. He is shy. Tomorrow is the first day at school. But there still so much things to do: to draw, to build a tree house, to watch the stars, to smile at Lily...

Today is a big day. Not a single familiar face in the classroom. The year will be long. But maybe there are still some nice surprises in stock?

Rickie Raccoon's Big Trip

by Gaëlle Duhazé

Nine years ago, Rickie Raccoon found herself stranded on a beach on Vancouver Island after a bad storm. Luckily Mrs. Rosabianca found her, but Rickie has very few friends. What she likes most is going to the beach to collect objects that have been washed up by the tides. One day, the Foxy brothers – some bullies who aren't very nice to her – discover that when she gets angry, Rickie turns into a real monster!

Who is she really and where does she come from? In order to find out, Rickie decides to take a trip on a whale's back to the island of Hokkaido where the Tanuki live, beings with the gift of metamorphosis...

A wonderful story about reclaiming self-esteem, that's funny and slightly kooky, told in a picture book where full-page illustrations and vignettes create an unexpected and delightful rhythm.

Key words: self-esteem, identity, Japan, adoption, friendship

AUTHOR / ILLUSTRATOR

Gaëlle Duhazé has been a children's book illustrator since 2007 and won the Prix Sorcières Documentaire in 2016 (Cité Babel, published by Les Éléphants). She published her first work as an author and illustrator for HongFei in 2016 (Chaton pâle et les Insupportables Petits Messieurs). She fills her visual creations with countless characters whose sensitivity and humor strikes a chord with readers, in texts that speak to the essential question of self-esteem.

The potter's wife

by Kuro Jiki (alias Thierry Dedieu)

The wife of a potter, who learned his craft from a great artist, watches him work every day. She is moved and impressed by his gestures. One day, when her husband is off accepting an award, she goes into his studio and feverishly begins working a block of clay. She returns often in secret until one day her husband and an art dealer surprise her with her work. None of the rules of art have been respected. Silently, the dealer takes a look around and then leaves. Soon enough, people start visiting her in the studio and talking about her. She owes everything to her husband, she says. They congratulate the husband and praise the artist. One day, when she receives an award, the potter goes back to his studio and destroys all of his own work. He is the husband of the ceramist now.

AUTHOR / ILLUSTRATOR

Thierry DEDIEU, who has a career in advertising, began working in children's literature in the 1990s. A photographer, painter, engraver and sculptor, he explores various aesthetic registers across his many works, which can sometimes be rather unusual, but which are always remarkable. In 2016, he began working with ceramics and took Kuro Jiki as his pen-name, under which he published his picture book The Potter's Wife. Thierry Dedieu is most notably the illustrator of the remarkable and politically engaged book If I was Minister of Culture (2017, HongFei).

Risha's Butterflies

by Amarnath Hosany
& Minji Lee-Diebold

For Risha, a modern girl, the world is noisy but there's very little communication actually taking place. Even within her own family, her mom, dad and brother are absorbed by their screens. So Risha, who is mute, takes solace in her imaginary world where her agile fingers communicate with the clouds.

One night, a power outage plunges the neighborhood into darkness. Everyone feels helpless... Everyone except for Risha! She lights candles and waves her fingers around in front of the light. The shadow of a small caterpillar appears on the wall, and soon afterwards the silhouette of a butterfly.

Island hopping in the Baltic

by Nicolas Jolivot

From Germany to Sweden with a stop in Denmark along the way, from the historic city of Lübeck to Öland, "the island of sun and wind," Nicolas Jolivot journeys by foot across landscapes with a calm, muffled and steady appearance, but which safeguard all of nature's most secret nuances, and an incredibly diversity of populations due to centuries of travel across these lands.

Over the course of his slow journey, with a notebook, pencil, tent, "ridiculous" bucket hat and Wilson the backpack as his only baggage, the notebooker invites us to discover this little-known European territory.

Written by the author of Japan on foot, below the volcanoes, winner of the Grand Prix of the Fondation d'Entreprise Michelin in 2018, the leading French literary award for travel diaries.

Confucius. The story of his life

by Chun-Liang Yeh & Clémence Pollet

A portrait of the most well-known Chinese man in the world.

What kind of child was Confucius? What did he think about as a young man? What was his profession? What did he teach? What was the end of his life like? Intuitive, studious and brilliant, he experienced the splendor of the royal court and then exile. Over the course of his lifetime, he formed a humanist worldview that would influence the history of Asia unlike anyone else.

If I Were the Minister of the Culture

by Carole Fréchette & Thierry Dedieu

The minister tries hard to convince her colleagues of the importance of the culture. They all agree about that but there is always something more important to spend money for. The minister has then got an idea: she will put in place «days without culture» when there would be no music, no dance, no circus; no one would be allowed to open a book, read a novel or even watch a film on YouTube... Thanks to its powerful text and drawings, this elegant big book (27 x 36 cm) makes everyone see the importance of the culture in our everyday life. It contains a poster so as to spread the message widely.

China, everyday life

by Nicolas Jolivot

"I discovered peaceful districts in crazy cities, buzzing villages in splendid landscapes and the endless tiny activities held by ordinary people who, just as in the rest of the world but expressed differently, smile, grumble, eat, make noise, writhe, have fun, worry, and try to get by to give a chance to their children."

We leaf through this beautiful book as one walks the streets of a city where China's vastness is home to lives led by men. At a time when one seeks to know and understand this fascinating and disturbing world power, the author invites us to dive into the daily lives of its inhabitants. Thus he traces in his sketchbooks, throughout his travels and encounters, a multi-faceted portrait of a diverse China. Uncompromising and without judgment, brilliant with humor and respect, he seized the unexpected, the hubbub and the wonders of a society where tradition is imbedded in the hyper-modernity.

Forty drawings are organized according to different themes : traveling, eating, in the street, a little bit of idleness, and «for life». At the end of the story are an expressive map of the country and a glossary of some words commonly crossed by travelers in China. The book won the Pépité prize 2014 awarded by the salon du livre jeunesse Montreuil and the journal Le Monde, in the non-fiction category.
