A Promise of Flight

Text & illustrations Sarah Andreacchio

A tiny caterpillar hatches from her egg and discovers the world. Ahead of her lies a long journey. Along the way, she encounters many challenges and makes new friends that help her grow stronger: delicious leaves, powerful winds, new companions, uphill and downhill paths... Then, one morning, the caterpillar finds herself transformed. Something has grown inside her: she is ready to take flight.

The Great Friend

Text Adèle Tariel

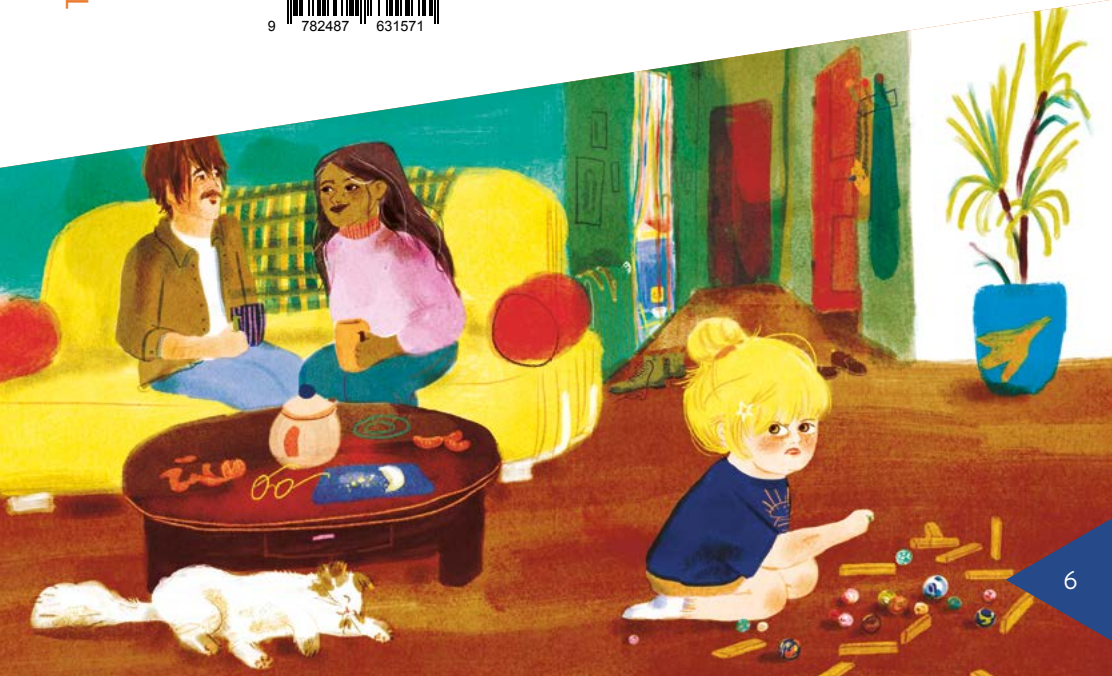

Illustrations Emma Bertin

One rainy day, a woman Lili has never seen before arrives at their home. Her dad introduces her as Mika, “his very special friend.” Little by little, Mika takes up more and more space in their lives, and Lili doesn’t understand why. Suddenly, all their familiar routines are turned upside down. How can they become a family of three after so long as just the two of them? And how will Lili learn to find her place with Mika?

Stepmother, family, love, childhood, family ties

Louise

Text Stéphanie Demasse-Pottier

Illustrations Magali Dulain

On the outside, Louise seems proud and strong, like a little warrior. But what if that strength actually hides a great sense of loneliness? Louise protects herself as well as she can, dreams and cries too... There's only one person who can save her – her new friend. Life is so much more enjoyable by her side... Entirely in black and white, Louise is a profound and unique picture book about childhood angst, loneliness and the power of friendship.

The Dancing of Flames

Text Anahita Ettehad

Illustrations Clémence Monnet

Ember, Wildfire and their daughter Flame live peacefully in the forrest. They are hiding a burning secret: during the nightly ritual, they dress the night with sparkles, lightning and will-o'-the wisps... But careful, the villagers mustn't witness such a thing, because they fear fire. One day, Flame helps a little girl in the deep forrest. Will this warm and unexpected encounter be enough to break the ice between the two groups?
